VIRTUAL TELEHEALTH

Kayan Health is developed by the founders of HeyDoc!, a telehealth app launched in 2016 that had supported over 3,000 patients globally.

Kayan Health is an AI-powered health communications platform that helps doctors streamline communications with their patients and remotely monitor them.

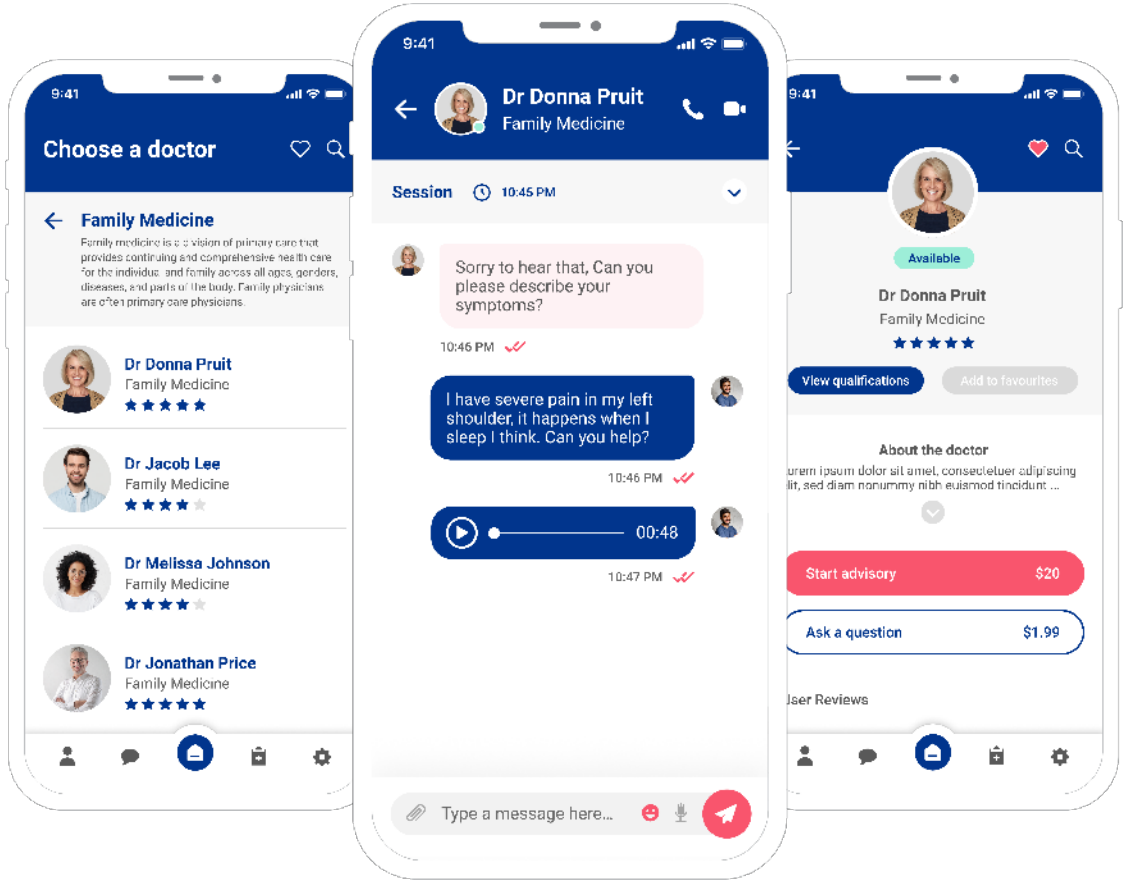
Kayan Health allows patients to triage their own symptoms, integrates with their wearable devices bringing vital data into a holistic patient profile, monitors their health and provides them with access to medical advice when necessary.

Kayan Health's platform has already been deployed in multiple clinics in the United States and is projected to reach $5M in revenue by 2022.

VIRTUAL TELEHEALTH

Kayan Health's proprietary platform allows patients to schedule calls with their physicians and communicate with them through chat, audio and video calls.

It enables them to triage their own symptoms through an Artificially Intelligent symptom checker that supports triage via text and voice-commands through Google Home and Alexa apps.



VIRTUAL TELEHEALTH

The platform also integrates with wearable devices and diagnostic tools that delivers both patients and doctors with greater visibility onto the patient's health and provides them with proactive automated alerts such as elevated blood pressure and heart rates.

Storing all this data into a holistic patient profile that's integrated with the clinic's electronic health systems – ensuring their patients' health records are up to date, accessible by all, helps deliver better care and enables the clinic to generate more revenue.
